

Join us for a series of Digital Humanities talks and workshops

DIGI COLLOQUIUM

TRANSLATING (PUBLISHING) NETWORKS FROM PRINT TO PIXEL

In this DIGI Colloquium, Dr. Nora Benedict, Assistant Professor of Spanish and Digital Humanities at UGA, will walk us through the complications and opportunities provided by translating print materials into a digital format. To do so, she will discuss the central cruxes of her current digital project, “Global Networks of Cultural Production,” which analyzes the emergence of a transatlantic literary print culture in Argentina during the twentieth century. Throughout her talk, she will also share a series of best practices for using digital methods to approach data and archival documents.

FEBRUARY 21 • 4:00 • DIGILAB

300 MAIN LIBRARY

WILLSON
CENTER DIGILAB